

“I have really found excellent continuity in every program I have experienced at Ursuline. A common theme in Ursuline programs seems to be a relationships-first approach to leadership.”

“The level of critical thinking that classmates and educators display is unrivaled. People are not afraid to ask if they don’t know something and are immediately ready to adapt their thinking to accommodate newly learned ideas. Along with this critical thinking ability, the group feels like a family or team working for a common goal.”

“I am most grateful for the connections I made while attending graduate school at Ursuline. I met inspiring educators, built relationships with dedicated colleagues, and had the pleasure of being guided by Dr. Gray and Dr. Connell.”
