Careers

Graduates with a degree in English are well-suited for careers in fields such as:

- Advertising
- Business
- Government
- Human Resources
- Law
- Marketing
- Publications
- Public relations
- Sales

Master the language.

As an English major at Ursuline College, you'll develop communication and critical thinking skills that employers want and the world needs. You'll develop a solid foundation in language studies through the program's focus on literary works and scholarly interpretation.

You'll also have opportunities to practice what you're learning. You might be the next member of Inscape's editorial board, earn your induction into our Epsilon Psi chapter of the national English honor society, Sigma Tau Delta, or use storytelling to create social impact through the Rust Belt Humanities Lab.

"Ursuline allowed me to expand upon the ambitions I have always envisioned at a young age."

Elyse Pitkin,
English graduate
